MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

By Dean Doucet

Dear Cousins,

We are in August, moving toward the end of the summer. Summers usually mean vacations, visiting summer homes and visiting family. These are usually joyous times. But they require planning and saving so that everything goes well. August is also when we hold the CMA family reunions every five years. Just as we are past the half way point in summer, we are past the half way point in planning for the next CMA reunion in 2014 in northern Maine, western New Brunswick and southeast Quebec. This reunion should be just as enjoyable as the previous CMA reunions. It will be a time to make new acquaintances and new friends and see more of the beautiful areas where the Acadian people settled.

As the LDDM Board of Directors one of our points of anxiety has been trying to ensure that we have a family reunion in 2014, especially without having to join with another family. We have anxiously watched the CMA website to see if a Doucet/Doucette family reunion is being planned. Several names have been mentioned as possible contacts to help put together a planning committee.

We want to assist any planning committee in any way that we can, as we have done in the past, to make sure that we have a successful reunion. We need your help. We need members who live in the reunion area. We need each of you, especially those who have family ties to these areas, to contact family members and encourage them to join LDDM and/or volunteer to help with a planning committee.

America, meaning the United States and Canada, has been the homeland of our ancestors for nearly 400 years. It is a wonderful place to live and visit. It is also a wonderful place for having extended family reunions of the sort that CMA encourages and sponsors. I hope that each of us will do our part in ensuring that these reunions continue. We have a great family. It is always enjoyable to meet and associate with the extended branches of the family. It adds to the quality of our own lives, as we share our cultures and histories and genealogies.

It is summer. The sun shines and the air is warm. May that warmth always shine in our lives and in the lives of our families.

GRAND PRE BEAUTY IS NOW HERITAGE SITE
(Toronto Sun, dated July 1, 2012)
Submitted by Pat Hayes

The Landscape of Grand Pre in Nova Scotia was named a World Heritage Site by the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization on Saturday, making it the 16th of its kind in Canada.

UNESCO said "the Landscape encompasses cultural characteristics that are so exceptional they are of importance to present and future generations of all humanity."

"The recognition of the Landscape of Grand Pre as a UNESCO World Heritage Site is a significant community achievement and follows many years of hard work by area residents, the farming community, the Acadian community, municipal and provincial partners, the Mi'kmaq and the government of Canada," said Bernard Valcourt, minister of state for the Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency.

The area comprises archeological sites from the 17th to the 20th centuries and commemorative sites associated with the Acadian homeland.

GRAND PRÉ EST SACRÉ PATRIMOINE MONDIAL DE
L'HUMANITÉ PAR L'UNESCO
Par Isabelle Parlé, La Presse canadienne, 30 juin 2012, Le Devoir.com)

GRAND PRÉ Le lieu historique national de Grand-Pré, en Nouvelle-Écosse, a obtenu ce samedi le statut de site du patrimoine mondial de l'humanité. Ottawa a confirmé que l'UNESCO, dont les délégués étaient réunis à Saint-Pétersbourg, en Russie, avaient déclaré patrimoine mondial le paysage de Grand-Pré.

Le ministre de l'Environnement, Peter Kent, a mentionné par voie de communiqué être enchanté de la nouvelle. Selon lui, le caractère unique de Grand-Pré attirera des touristes étrangers à la recherche d'expérience unique et de sites symboliques, en plus des autres touristes canadiens et acadiens.

La Société National de l'Acadie (SNA) s'est félicitée de l'inclusion de Grand-Pré parmi les sites du patrimoine mondial, soutenant que c'était là une reconnaissance de "très grande envergure." Le président de la SNA, René Légère, soutient que cette désignation est une nouvelle confirmation de l'existence du peuple acadien, dans un communiqué publié sur le site web de l'organisme.

C'est à Grand-Pré, en bordure de la baie de Fundy, qu'a débuté la Déportation des Acadiens en 1755. Le site, doté de caractéristiques culturelles "exceptionnelles," fait plus de 1300 hectares de terrains et de propriétés. Il aura fallu patienter plusieurs années avant que le site de Grand-Pré n'obtienne le reconnaissance de l'UNESCO.

GRAND PRÉ NAMED
UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE SITE
(CBC News, June 30, 2012)

Members of the Société Promotion Grand-Pré sat at the edge of their seats, watching a webcast of the final vote. They've been working towards the designation since 2007. One man, so overcome with emotion, called the announcement one of the happiest of his life.

Grand Pré, located in Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley, was the centre of Acadian settlement from 1682 to 1755. It also hours the deportation of Acadians, which began in 1755 and continued until 1762.

In a release, the Société said the designation will cover the red cliffs of Cape Blomidon to the tides of the Bay of Fundy. They called it a great day for Acadians around the world.

Two members of the committee traveled to Russia to participate in the discussions leading up to the decision.

UNESCO World Heritage Convention aims at preserving cultural and environmental heritage in sites around the world. Other UNESCO sites include the Great Wall of China and the pyramids in Egypt. Grand Pré qualified under the cultural landscape category.

In addition to the national historic site, the newly designated area includes the communities of Grand Pré and Hortonville.

It encompasses more than 1,300 hectares of land and properties.

THE DEPORTATION OF THE ACADIANS

On July 28, 1755, Charles Lawrence, governor of Nova Scotia, ordered his men to start arresting Acadians with a view to deporting them. But it took until September 5 of that year for Charles Lawrence to gather the Acadians in the St. Charles Church in Grand Pré in order to read the declaration that they must relinquish their possessions to the British Crown and that they would be deported. Unaware of what awaited them in the church, many Acadians were taken prisoner and deported to American colonies, France, and England, and many died during the long ocean voyage. The survivors roamed, looking for a new place to call home. In 1763, after the Seven Year War and the signing of the peace treaty, some Acadians returned to Nova Scotia, only to find that they no longer owned land; it had been redistributed to Protestant settlers. In all, several thousand Acadians died during deportation: of illness, drowning, misery and starvation.

Concepts

Acadian

The Acadians are the descendants of the first French colonists who settled in what are today the Maritime provinces, and they developed a cultural independence that is recognized to this day.

Treaty signed in Utrecht, in the Netherlands, to end the hostilities between France and England after Spain's Civil War. Spain was the enemy of France and of a coalition of European countries, including England. England benefited most from the agreements, as France ceded Newfoundland, Acadia, Hudson's Bay and St. Christopher's Island in the West Indies.

July 28, 2012: Day of Remembrance

Saturday, July 28, 2012, the Acadian Memorial (St. Martinville, LA) will host a special program in recognition of the Day of Remembrance. The significance of this date is two-fold. On July 28, 1755, British Governor Charles Lawrence signed the deportation order, which set in motion Le Grand Dérangement or the Great Upheaval. The Acadians were exiled from their homeland of l'Acadie, and from 1755 until 1763, an estimated third of their population perished as a result. While many of the Acadians eventually found their way to Louisiana and reestablished a community, their descendants remained a people in exile until 2003, when Queen Elizabeth II signed a Royal Proclamation. This Proclamation stated July 28th is the official day in which the world will remember the Acadians' suffering as a result of Le Grand Dérangement and their subsequent exile.

This July 28th, the Acadian Memorial will honor the memory of the Acadians' suffering through a commemorative Mass at 4:00 p.m. in the mother church of the Acadians, St. Martin de Tours Catholic Church in St. Martinville, La. Please join us immediately after mass at 5:00pm in the Acadian Memorial for a reception followed by a special induction ceremony honoring Brenda Comeaux Trahan and Ernest Ray Trahan's contributions in the preservation and cultivation of our Cajun culture.

3:00 p.m. – Annual Reading of the Order of Deportation

To commemorate the deportation of the Acadians from the Grand-Pré region, the annual reading of the Order of Deportation will take place at 3 pm on September 5. It was on that day and at that time in 1755 that Lt. Col. John Winslow informed the 418 men and boys imprisoned in the church at Grand-Pré that all the Acadians in the region would be deported and that their lands would be confiscated. Over 1,500 Acadians were deported from the Grand-Pré between October 8 and December 13, 1755.

The reading of the Order of Deportation will be followed by the raising of the Acadian flag.

his Majesty's final resolution to the French inhabitants of this his Province of Nova-Scotia; who, for almost half a century, have had more indulgence granted them than any of his subjects in any part of his dominions; what use you have made of it you yourselves best know. The part of duty I am now upon, though necessary, is very disagreeable to my natural make and temper, as I know it must be grievous to you, who are of the same species; but it is not my business to animadvert but to obey such orders as I receive, and therefore, without hesitation, shall deliver you his Majesty's orders and instructions, namely- that your lands and tenements, cattle of all kinds and live stock of all sorts, are forfeited to the Crown; with all other your effects, saving your money and household goods, and you yourselves to be removed from this his Province."

"Thus it is peremptorily his Majesty's orders that the whole French inhabitants of these Districts be removed; and I am, through his Majesty's goodness, directed to allow you liberty to carry off your money and household goods, as many as you can without discommoding the vessels you go in. I shall do everything in my power that all those goods be secured to you, and that you are not molested in carrying them off; also, that whole families shall go in the same vessel, and make this remove, which I am sensible must give you a great deal of trouble, as easy as his Majesty's service will admit; and hope that, in whatever part of the world you may fall, you may be faithful subjects, a peaceable and happy people."

"I must also inform you, that it is his Majesty's pleasure that you remain in security under the inspection and direction of the troops that I have the

TASK FORCE ON FRANCO-AMERICAN HERITAGE MEETS

By Juliana L'Heureux

Submitted by Norman Doucette, Jr.

Task Force on Franco-Americans Convenes AUGUSTA — A task force looking to quantify Maine's Franco-American community and promote and preserve its culture recently met for the first time.

....Franco-Americans are Maine's largest minority group. Demographic data from the 1990 and 2000 census documented about 18 percent of Maine's citizens self identify themselves as Franco-American, reported University of Maine researcher Jacob Albert in his opening presentation to the task force.

The Task Force work will report about Franco-American educational achievements, the group's income disparities compared to the population at large, their retention of the French language, some particular health care practices and opportunities to promote Maine's economic development through cultural initiatives. Four meetings are scheduled between June 19, and December 15, 2012, to complete a report to The Joint Standing Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs.

Recommendations will document ways to support education, and cultural awareness about Maine's Franco-American heritage and how economic opportunities can be developed through these initiatives.

....A second meeting of the Task Force is scheduled in August, possibly at a Franco-American heritage site in either Lewiston or Fort Kent.

For information or to be included on the Task Force interested parties list, contact Karen Nadeau-Drillon at the Office of Policy and Legal Analysis at 207-287-1670 or Karen.NadeauDrillen@legislature.maine.gov

Acadian Tourtiere

Submitted by Roland Doucett O'Connell

1/2 lb. ground Veal or Beef
1 tsp. Salt
1/2 lb. ground Pork
1/4 tsp. Pepper
1/3 cup chopped Onion
1/4 cup Water
1 med. size Potato, cooked & mashed
1/2 cup finely chopped Celery & Leaves
1/4 tsp. each of Sage & Summer Savory
Pastry for one pie, top and bottom (I use Pillsbury ready crust)

Prepare pastry; reserve some for top crust, and line a 9" pie plate. Combine all ingredients together in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat until the meat has lost its pink color, but is still moist; cool. Pour meat mixture into the prepared pie crust, then top with the remaining pie crust, seal and flute edges. Be sure and make slits in center to allow steam to escape. Bake in a hot oven 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until browned.

NOTE: Baked tourtieres may be frozen and reheated before serving.

In early Acadia, it was the custom to serve Tourtiere at the Reveillon, which was celebrated after Christmas Eve Mass.
